B'NAI B'RITH WORLD CENTER JERUSALEM בני ברית מרכז עולמי ירושלים

Mr. Gad, shalom.

We are pleased to announce that on 3/7/2022, our committee, on the recommendation of Avraham Huli, decided to award the late Herbert Growald the “Jewish Rescuers Citation” as a tribute to his work to save Jews from the Nazis and their aides in the Holocaust. His bravery is an inspiration to us. We'll come with you with things about giving the signal.

The “Jewish Rescuers Citation” was founded in 2011 by the Committee to Honor the Bravery of Jewish Rescuers in the Holocaust-era and the World Center of B'nai Brith in order to correct the misguided public consciousness as if Jews were not engaged in saving their brothers in the Holocaust-era. To date, it has been decided to award the citation to honor some 600 rescuers who operated in France, Hungary, Greece, Germany, Slovakia, Yugoslavia, Russia, Poland, Ukraine, Lithuania, the Czech Republic, Italy, Latvia, Austria, Romania, Belgium, Morocco, Algeria, Denmark and the Netherlands under the Nazi regime or their allies, while risking their lives.

We are available at your disposal for any questions.

Sincerely

Allan Schneider, Director of the B'nai Brith World Center and Secretary of the sub-committee for the “Jewish Rescuers Citation”
